SOLOMON RAY.

A hard close man was Solomon Ray;
Nothing of value he gave away;
He hoarded and saved,
And he pinched and shaved;
And the more he had the more he craved.

The hard-earned dollars he toiled to gain
Brought him little but care and pain;
For little he spent,
And all that he lent,
He made it bring him twenty per cent.

This was the life of Solomon Ray,
The years went by, and his hair grew gray;
His cheeks grew thin;
And his heart within
Grew hard as the dollars he worked to win.

But he died one day, as all men must,
For life is fleeting, and man but dust;
And the heirs were gay
That laid him away;
This was the end of Solomon Ray.

They quarrelled now, who had little cared
For Solomon Ray while his life was spared;
His lands were sold,
And his hard-earned gold
All went to the lawyers, I am told.

Yet men will pinch, and cheat and save,
Nor carry their treasures beyond the grave;
All their gold, some day
Will melt away,
Like the selfish savings of Solomon Ray.

The Board of Directors of the Texas and Pacific Railway Company as newly organized is constituted as follows: Thos. A. Scott, of Philadelphia; Edward Pierrepont, of New York; Wm. A. Wallace, J. W. Throckmorton, of Texas; Albert Hewson; A. J. Cassatt, of Philadelphia; Henry Shackman; Joseph Hesley; W. R. McManus, of Reading; H. B. Plant, of Georgia; H. D. Newcomb, of Kentucky; E. W. Rice, of Iowa; H. S. McComb, of Delaware; John W. Forney, of Philadelphia; W. C. Hite, of Kentucky; John S. Harris, of Louisiana; Joseph Brown, of Georgia. The officers of the Texas and Pacific Railroad are as follows: President, Thomas A. Scott; Vice-President, William A. Wallace; Treasurer, Edward Pierrepont; Secretary, Emanuel B. Hart.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the California and Texas Railway Construction Company, held in Philadelphia lately, the following Board of Directors was elected: W. J. Walters, of Baltimore; Geo. B. Roberts, of Philadelphia; J. N. McCullough, of Pittsburg; C. F. Holly, of New Mexico; H. H. Houston, of Philadelphia; Matthew Baird, of Philadelphia; William Phillips, of Pittsburg; John McManus, of Reading; Alfred Genter; S. F. Miller; H. B. Bristow, of Louisville; Henry G. Stebbins, of New York; J. Edgar Thomson, of Philadelphia; Frank S. Bond and J. B. Bowman, of Lexington, Ky. At the meeting of the Board of Directors the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, H. B. Bristow; Vice-President, Frank S. Bond; Treasurer, George D. Krumhaar; Secretary, E. J. Babcock.

OUR correspondent at Prescott writes us as follows:

Lieut. E. D. Thomas, 5th Cavalry, with 101 of the Indians who left Date Creek, arrived at Whipple on the 23d and left on the 24th June for Verde. Ten Indians moved direct for Verde from the Colorado. Ten more remained among the Mojaves, thus making up the total of one hundred and twenty-one of the band referred to. Many had already returned to their proper reservation.

Capt. Geo. F. Price, 5th Cavalry, arrived at Whipple June 23. He is to take command of the troops to build telegraph line.

Mr. R. R. Haines, Q. M. Agent for the construction of the telegraph between Prescott and Tucson, reached Whipple June 23 and was in consultation with Gen. Dana. The work will be begun at once and pushed through.

Lieut. C. P. Egan, 12th Infantry, wounded at the lava beds, has recovered and is now enroute to Mohave.

Dr. Bailey and Gen. Small arrived home on 23d, expressing themselves delighted with southern Arizona and their reception by the good people of Tucson.

ALL quiet on the Gila up to yesterday. Letter just received says it is feared some Pimas will be killed to offset their murder of Garcia and then the trouble will begin.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The Secretary of War, under the advice of Attorney-General Williams, has decided to commence a civil suit against the hypocrite, General Howard, for the money short in the Freedmen's Bureau Fund.

THE President has accepted the resignation of Second Lieutenant William Dulany of the Fifth Cavalry, to take effect June 3, 1873.

THE Miner for June 21 and 28 has just arrived.

THE LIARS AT WORK.

There is a large class of editors and correspondents for newspapers whose chief labors are lying. If God had not ceased to strike men dead for deliberate lying, there would soon be a sweeping reduction in journalistic ranks. The miserable wretches are always scenting around for something bad, nasty and disgraceful, and failing to find it bad enough to suit their taste or on a level with much of their own conduct, they at once fabricate tales of falsehood for their readers. There is not an observant reader of current news and lies and nastiness who does not know our statements are true.

Just now these foul blots of the press, are libelling the Centennial Commission, and President Grant's connection with it. They are charging that the President is making a partisan machine of it; that in consequence it must be a failure, &c. Now we here present facts which the liars may deny but cannot possibly disprove: The President of the United States has no partisan influence to wield over the Centennial management, hence, if disposed, he could not. The law compels him to commission two commissioners in each State and Territory upon their nomination by the Governor of such State or Territory. The President cannot appoint one of his own choice and is compelled by law to appoint only such as the several Governors name to him for appointment. Thus the President has commissioned two democrats in each of the States of New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Kentucky, California, Oregon and others. Nevada's principal commissioner is a democrat and the other republican—but a democratic Governor named both and the President was compelled to appoint them. The commissioners from West Virginia and Virginia are both very clever and able men, and they fought bravely in the rebel army, and other States have like character of officers in the Commission. The commissioners of Indiana were both named by a republican Governor and the President appointed them. By and by the State elected a democratic Governor (Hendricks) and he discovered that one of the appointees had ceased to be a resident of Indiana, and thereupon sent the name of a democrat to President Grant for appointment, and he was appointed, giving that State a representative from each party. So we might go into the details of the work to show how base the press MODOCS are in this respect. In the formation of the committees charged with the more responsible duties, members were chosen because of their special fitness and for no other. Any member of the Commission who has attended the meeting of the body will testify to these statements.

Right in the city of Philadelphia, there are a number of these press Apaches and MODOCS who hope to be quieted down by gifts or bribes—either being what they labor for. The commission is in no sense partisan. Any discussion or action of the kind at its meetings would kill it dead as it should. Congress so legislated as to prevent partisanship in its management. If it fails to get the warm support of the whole people, the press Apaches and MODOCS will be chiefly responsible and not the President or Commission whose labors are earnest and without pay, and whose aim is to make the exposition a grand success and benefit to the whole people. The extreme southern members are enthusiastic in the belief that it will be the grandest instrument to dispel bad feeling and heartily reunite the people.

THE PIMA TROUBLES.

A brief statement of the late troubles with the Pimas may properly be made as follows: On the 24th of June, San Juan's day, a dance occurred near Adamsville and so did a general drunk; in the carousal a son of Antonio Azul, Pima chief, was killed and a Papago badly cut with a knife. Domingo Garcia was arrested as the murderer of young Azul, and while in the custody of deputy sheriff Smith R. Turner, the Pima Indians forcibly entered the prisoner's place of confinement, took him out and beat him to death with clubs. The calling for and receiving military aid from McDowell and Lowell was referred to by us last Saturday, and is further alluded to in Mr. Brady's communication in this paper. Mr. B. also mentions other matters which we need not now repeat.

The general impression is that Mexicans killed young Azul, but thus far no proof of it exists, or if so, we know nothing of it. They may or may not have been guilty, and as stated last week, the killing might have been done by drunken Indians in a family row.

One thing is certain: The Pimas deliberately, in defiance of all law and in a manner, too, to prevent any successful execution of the law, murdered a man whom the law-officers had in charge with a view to ascertain whether or not he was guilty. They also made many defiant threats; stole some property and destroyed growing crops by running over them with horses in a reckless and willful manner; and generally conducted themselves in utter disregard and defiance of law and order. At least such are the reports as they come to us from several sources. No matter who killed the Pima and wounded the Papago, the subsequent action of the Pimas puts them down as a lawless as well as unrestrained people.

Hearing that Judge Titus contemplated calling a grand jury to investigate the matter, we called upon him Wednesday to make inquiries thereon. He replied that he had sent to the Gila to ascertain whether evidence sufficient to convict the guilty ones could be obtained, and if it can, he would call a grand jury, and probably try a Pima already indicted for murder on such evidence as can be obtained.

Railroad Prospects for Arizona.

The Texas and Pacific Company has shown such life and work during the past twelve months, that no one could reasonably doubt the early construction of an overland road through this section of the Territory; and the Atlantic and Pacific Company, having in charge the one to pass through Yavapai and Mohave counties, has been doing nothing; but the annexed dispatch to the San Diego Union indicates new life for it, and leads to the hope that two overland roads will ere many years pass through the entire length of Arizona:

NEW YORK, June 25.—After many postponements, a meeting of the stockholders of the Atlantic and Pacific R. R. was held yesterday at which a new Board of Directors was chosen, headed by Oliver Ames, Joseph Seligman and Frederick Billings. The Board will soon meet again for the election of officers. It is said that a new policy is to be adopted by the Company, which will restore the stock to the active list. For some time past there has been an almost total cessation in transactions in this stock, quotations running as low as 23 cents.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—The Secretary of the Interior to-day decided that the erection of a house by two, three or four pre-emption or homestead claimants in such a manner as to occupy a portion of each of their quarter-sections under one roof, is a legal compliance with the law requiring a house to be built on every quarter-section, in order to secure title to it.

Copper on the Gila.

A very fine specimen of copper has been sent to us from Florence by Joseph Collingwood, which was taken from a vein some fifteen miles above the town on the south side of the Gila. We are told that at only a few feet in depth, the vein is about four feet in width; also that the country round there is a mass of mineral. Almost any kind of ore having a commercial value equivalent to iron or copper, must at no distant day be very valuable along the line of the railway. The copper specimen before us is nearly pure metal and probably bears some silver. Patents to such mineral deposits can be obtained for a few hundred dollars and a little work, and now is probably an easier time to procure patents than when the population is more numerous and contests more liable to arise.

WE summarize as follows from the Sentinel of June 28:

The supervisors of Yuma county have levied taxes on the $100 valuation as follows: For county purposes, $1.85; special court-house fund, 50 cents; Territorial fund, 25 cents; Territorial school fund, 25 cents; county school fund, 25 cents; making a total of $3.10. The Colorado river rose several feet in a few days. Wm. B. Markham and Neils Johnson have gone out prospecting for mines in San Diego county, along the range of the Sierra Nevada running north of the Picacho. Wm. B. Hooper & Co. had just shipped by Neahr's train, 19,000 lbs. government freight to McDowell. By Espinosa's train, 17,500 government freight to Grant. By James Bowley, 10,000 lbs. government freight to Grant.

WE take this item from a late number of the Sacramento Record:

It is reported that John D. Trainor, who was town marshal in Visalia about two years ago, and who left town under peculiar circumstances—just after the failure to accept the bridge which he built across St. John creek on a contract from the county—is reported to have been hanged by the Vigilantes of Arizona, having escaped from the jail in which he was confined on a charge of murder.

The above item is fresh news down this way. We have heard nothing of Trainor nor of any one having been hung as stated; nor do we believe there is any vigilante organization in Arizona. The item has done service outside of Arizona, and we now let our people have a sight of it.

GIVE a man the necessities of life, and he wants the conveniences; give him the conveniences, and he craves for the luxuries; give him the luxuries, and he sighs for the elegancies; let him have the elegancies, and he yearns for the follies; give him all together, and he complains that he has been cheated both in the price and quantity of the article.

THE old adage that "women can't keep a secret," is demonstrated to be false. A Wisconsin girl did not tell her lover of her prospects, and six weeks after marriage, when a little stranger came to live with him, he bellowed like a bull all over town, and blowed it all along the road to Kansas, where he went alone to grow up with the country.

A YOUTH who was taking an airing in the country tried to amuse himself by quizzing an old farmer about his bald head, but was extinguished by the old man, who solemnly remarked, "Young man, when my head gets as soft as yours, I can raise hair to sell."

June 3, Assistant Surgeon George M. C. Miller was relieved from duty in the department of the south and ordered to Arizona.

THE Borderer of last Saturday says there are about 3,000 head of cattle in the vicinity of Selden, held for Mr. Hooker of Arizona.

COL. J. M. BARNEY was at Maricopa Wells on July 3, on his way to Prescott, and expects to be back to Yuma in about three weeks.
